

NEW FOR SPRING 2010 The Real Thing in N-Scale

Maintenance of Way Series + more

Features for the runner - Nicely weighed, 36" metal wheels for Code 55 track, Micro-Trains® coupler.

Features for the collector - Authentically detailed, rivets just like the prototype, sliding baggage car doors, authentic 4-wheel or 6-wheel trucks, full interior in the coaches. It brings the WOW to your layout.

Quick guide to history - Railroad management were a frugal bunch. Heavyweight cars such as these were re-assigned to maintenance of way work when useful life in revenue service ended. Coaches carried the crew to the project site. Baggage cars were rolling storage for holding equipment and supplies safe from weather and vandalism.

Prior to being demoted to MoW, railroads of 1950's -1960's relied heavily on mail and express traffic to offset dwindling passenger revenues. Heavyweight headend cars were frequently handled in all streamlined passenger train consist. Further, revenue generating baggage-express cars handling storage mail were interlined with participating railroads.
